

TÜSE

international education week
summer school
jul 31 – aug 07
2022

meet learn connect discuss

Join us to meet other teacher candidates, learn more about teaching theory and teaching methodology, connect theory and practice, discuss latest research results with educational experts.

The International Education Week offers ideal opportunities to meet and study with teacher candidates from other countries. Participants work with experienced professors from the University of Tübingen on essential topics of teacher education. They get insight from researchers and expert practitioners.

Topics

- Ethical Argumentation
- Ethics of Sustainable Development
- Education for Sustainable Development
- Teaching and Learning
- International Perspectives on Teacher Education

Structure

The program is based on an ongoing class on Ethical Argumentation and Sustainable Development (in English language). This class includes expert lectures and interdisciplinary group work.

Application

Teacher candidates from all of Tübingen's partner universities are invited to apply. Please find all application details at <https://uni-tuebingen.de/de/95235>. Applications are open until: April 15, 2022.

Housing

Participants are provided housing accommodations for the whole week.

Financial Support

This project is funded by the DAAD with financial support of the Federal Foreign Office, and by CIVIS – A European Civic University. Successful applicants can receive financial support for travel and housing expenses, further details are described on the website.

Hosting Institution

The International Education Week 2022 is hosted by the Tübingen School of Education (TüSE). www.tuese.uni-tuebingen.de

Contact

Deborah Diekmann
University of Tübingen, Germany
Tübingen School of Education
Internationalization

education-week@tuese.uni-tuebingen.de

University of Tübingen
Tübingen School of Education
Internationalization
Wilhelmstraße 31
72074 Tübingen · Germany

